Ready for change

Whether your space demands workstations, sit/stand desks, meeting hubs or quiet zones, Domain meets your needs today with the freedom to adapt for tomorrow.

Domain's simple platform features integrated power and data, with movable elements that are easily rearranged without tools.

delight users

A wide range of finishes, accessories, storage, power access, work tools and user privacy elements let you create your own Domain.

Power where you need it

Convenient and easy access to power and data allows for fast changes and reconfiguration, eliminating downtime and keeping employees working and happy.

empower technology

Domain's innovative technology track delivers seamless plug-and-play power and features a four-circuit quick disconnect power system.

foster agility

Our innovative functional channel makes it easy to attach screens, supports and other accessories – and move them with ease when you're ready to change your space.

A sustainable choice

Domain's inherent flexibility ensures its long life, and our commitment to responsible materials also minimizes impact on the environment.
